

Anti-psychotic medication in pregnancy

Dr Justin Dwyer

Justin Dwyer is a registrar in consultation liaison psychiatry at Peter MacCallum Cancer Centre.

He is presenting the results from his systematic review covering the use of antipsychotics in pregnancy. This study was undertaken as part of a larger research project to examine the use of psychotropics in pregnancy, a collaboration between The Royal Women's Hospital, the Mercy Hospital for Women, and the Werribee Mercy Hospital.

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHIATRY MONDAY COLLOQUIUM

Monday 15 June 2009 / 1North, Main Block, Royal Melbourne Hospital, Victoria

Lunch: 1215-1230 Presentation: 1230-1330