

Dr Maria Tumarkin is a Post-doctoral Fellow at the Institute for Social Research at Swinburne University, where she is working on the international project 'Social Memory and Historical Justice'. Maria's PhD examined the relationship between psychic trauma and lived experiences of place. She is the author of 'Traumascapes. The Power and Fate of Places Transformed by Tragedy' and 'Courage'.

Ms Anita Milicevic is a PhD candidate and sessional lecturer at Victoria University, School of Psychology. Anita's research uses a family systems perspective to explore resilience and recovery of refugees from the former Yugoslavia. Her passion for learning and understanding the interconnection of the psychological, social and political dimensions of war and refugee trauma is linked with her personal experience as a refugee and war survivor from the Balkans. She currently works as a family counsellor at LifeWorks.

Beyond the Clinical Paradigm of Psychological Trauma and Recovery

Dr Maria Tumarkin

Ms Anita Milicevic

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHIATRY MONDAY COLLOQUIUM Monday 23rd February 2009 / 1North, Main Block, Royal Melbourne Hospital, Victoria Lunch: 12.15-12.30 Presentation: 12.30-1.30 pm

Monday Colloquia are a joint presentation between the University of Melbourne Department of Psychiatry & North Western Mental Health. For more information contact Dr Simon Jones tel +61 3 8344 6337 (sgjones@unimelb.edu.au)