

Infertility and Psychiatry

Professor Fiona Judd

Director Centre for Women's Mental Health
Royal Women's Hospital
Professorial Fellow
Department of Psychiatry,
University of Melbourne

Professor Fiona Judd is Director of the Centre for Women's Mental Health at the Royal Women's Hospital and Professorial Fellow in the University of Melbourne Department of Psychiatry. Fiona's research interests include anxiety disorders and the relationship between physical and mental health problems. Her current research and clinical work is in the areas of gynaecological cancer, menopause and infertility.

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHIATRY MONDAY COLLOQUIUM

Monday 23th March 2009 / 1 North, Main Block, Royal Melbourne Hospital, Victoria

Lunch: 1215-1230 Presentation: 1230-1330